Finger lickin' football specials

Park 101 in North County has unveiled a new Monday Night Football menu. Kick off your game-day plans with smoked chicken wings by the pound with sliced carrots and celery served with ranch or blue cheese dressing. The wings are available in three flavors: house barbecue, Park buffalo sauce or a dry, sweet heat rub.

The New Yorker Pizzeria & Bar brings New York-style chicken wings to the West Coast. If you can handle the heat, order the hot buffalo-style wings doused in a zesty buffalo sauce or the not-too-spicy five-chile mango wings sweetened with tangy mango. 535 Fourth Ave., San Diego. (619) 238-0048 or thenewyorkersd.com

Woodstock's Pizza offers savory man cave wings coated in spicy buffalo, honey barbecue or smoking dry rub sauce. Eat them "naked" or drench them in a signature ranch, blue cheese, honey mustard or creamy sriracha sauce. Orders of six, 12 or 18 wings are available all day long. Two San Diego locations: 6145 El Cajon Blvd. and 1221 Garnet Ave. Error! Hyperlink reference not valid.

Pillbox Tavern and Grill offers wing aficionados 14 different house-made sauces, including maple bourbon bacon, honey teriyaki, sriracha ranch and habanero barbecue.
